

Pullman Tokyo Tamachi opens as brand's first hotel in Japan

AccorHotels announces upscale property is its 1000th hotel in Asia Pacific

AccorHotels has announced the official opening of Pullman Tokyo Tamachi as the first Pullman hotel in Japan and the Group's 1000th hotel in the Asia Pacific region. It is a significant addition to AccorHotels' growing portfolio in Japan and signals the Group's move towards more luxury and upscale hotels across its network.

Located at Tamachi Station in one of the city's most up-and-coming business districts, the 143-room hotel is surrounded by beautiful canals and provides easy access to Tokyo Tower, Haneda Airport, and Ginza. It is only a short walk from the Yamanote train line, meaning guests are a short ride from such major Tokyo districts as Shibuya, Shinjuku and Tokyo station. You can also enjoy a short cruise from the nearest canal to exciting Odaiba, a popular entertainment precinct on an island in the middle of Tokyo Bay.

The Pullman's second floor is connected by covered walkway to Tamachi Station and is directly linked to Tamachi's newest landmark, Tamachi Station Tower S — also known as msb Tamachi — a 30-storey shopping, restaurant, and office complex.

"We are excited to extend our footprint in Japan with the opening of our first Pullman," said Eric D'Ignazio, Vice President of AccorHotels Japan. "The Pullman brand is globally recognized for bringing an upscale and hyper-connected experience to guests that combines performance with enjoyment. It is the perfect brand for a vibrant metropolis like Tokyo and we are proud to launch as AccorHotels' 1000th hotel in Asia Pacific."

Pullman Tokyo Tamachi represents a new type of upmarket hospitality and is a true reflection of Japan, combining modernity with tradition and efficiency with elegance. The lobby Junction boasts a colourful Japanese kabuki-inspired aesthetic, reflected throughout the hotel with a spirit of beauty and boldness that is typical of this stylized form of Japanese theatre. Designed to be lively and interactive, the Junction will change its mood throughout the day, offering barista coffees, cakes, pastries in the morning, and cool cocktails in the evening.

Guests can enjoy freshly prepared Mediterranean styled dishes with an Asian twist at Kasa, where the food philosophy is simple, fresh and fun including a live Teppan ice-cream counter. At Platform 9 rooftop bar, Japanese styled tapas can be shared alongside cocktails inspired by renowned bartender, Roman Foltan, one of the world's leading bartenders, who is taking a two-month residency at the hotel. The cosy bar features sweeping views of the Tokyo skyline and a cool, urban ambience, which will make it popular with both locals and visitors alike.

The hotel also features three banquet and meeting rooms, all located on the ninth floor, with floor-to-ceiling windows that offer picturesque views of Tokyo and provide a private, comfortable space that can be used for any occasion. In addition, there is a Fitness room with state-of-the-art equipment and an Executive Lounge. All guest rooms and suites feature the tailor-made Pullman Bed from Takumi Otsuka, illy coffee machines, BOSE wireless speakers and indulgent C.O Bigelow amenities, ensuring the highest levels of comfort and performance.

As with all Pullman hotels throughout Asia Pacific, Pullman Tokyo Tamachi creates inspiring experiences and offerings through the local neighbourhood's history and culture, helping guests to know their surroundings more intimately and leave feeling like a local.
